Aluminum Expedition Catamaran – Long Range, High Volume, Ocean-Ready

The Squalt Marine CK 64 is a custom-built, expedition-grade aluminum catamaran designed for serious long-distance cruising with luxurious living comfort. Built in 2019 by Squalt Marine International in Tunisia, this 64-foot multihull offers remarkable durability, autonomy, and volume—making it ideal for transoceanic adventures or high-end private/charter use.

Notable Features:

- Built for offshore cruising with reinforced hull and oversized tankage
- Insulated and soundproofed for tropical or cold climates
- Built-in redundancy and technical access throughout
- Ideal platform for exploration, liveaboard, or high-end charter

This CK 64 is a rare offering: a robust, performance-oriented aluminum catamaran with true bluewater pedigree, long-range autonomy, and exceptional volume.

Available now, turnkey and fully equipped.
